

INFORMATION COURSES 2017

5-day course comprising theoretical lectures and practical demonstrations, recommended for physiotherapists, educators specialising in early development, nurses, teachers, integration teachers, therapists and special education teachers from Hungary and abroad.

Dates: 24 – 28 April 2017 and 6 – 10 November 2017.

Programme:

Day 1: Theoretical presentations. The properties of conductive education at different ages (infancy, pre-school, primary school, adults). The importance of early CE. The specialities of early CE and its role in CE. The characteristics of the particular age groups and symptom complexes. The importance of screening and detection. The connection between the family and CE in the early phase of life. The shaping of the conductive programme at a given age. The duties of conductive kindergarten groups. The position of school age children in the CE system. Opportunities to develop abilities and skills in the lower classes of primary school. Opportunities to improve learning disorders. Adults in the CE system. Habilitation versus rehabilitation. Factors, goals and developmental levels determining the composition of the programmes. Social integration, the role of social factors influencing the quality of life. Analysis of the learning process, survey of cases, observation of sessions. Methods of psychological assistance.

Days 2-5: Observation of practice and consultation in conductive groups at different units of the Institute.

Target group:

Physiotherapists, educators specialising in early development, nurses, teachers from Hungary and abroad, integration teachers, therapists, special education teachers.

Language: English.

Dates: 24 – 28 April 2017 and 6 – 10 November 2017.

Closing date for applications: 7 April 2017 and 24 October 2017, respectively.

Participation fee: EUR 500.- (No accommodation or meals included.)

Deposit: EUR 100.- to be paid parallel with application. If participation is cancelled after 18 April 2017 or 30 October 2017, respectively, the deposit will not be refunded. In case the course does not take place due to the insufficient number of applications, the deposit will be reimbursed by the Pető College.

The courses will take place on the condition that a sufficient number of applications are received.

Special dates and prices may be agreed if a particular organisation or institution has the intention to send an appropriate number of participants (at least 10).

The participation fee does not include accommodation or meals.
Please note that course participants are not allowed to take still or motion pictures of the programmes.

For information and to apply please contact info@peto.hu or call Gabriella Földiné Németh at +36 1 224 1518.

Aдриенн Деák PhD
College Professor
Director for Education Development